

This is the same group that refused to broadcast liberal viewpoints so I can only assume they have a political agenda in promoting this conservative viewpoint at this crucial time in this election. There does not appear to be any balance in the views that they air so this special can only be considered a commercial. I am also concerned about the accuracy in the special.